Dozen Dark Horses Being Mentioned for GOP Nomination in 1936

WASHINGTON—Whatever may be the election chances next year there is one thing the GOP is sure of—a large and varied stable of will-dark horses to pick from.

Although the nominating convention still is more than a year off, a dozen candidates already have thrown their hats in the ring.

Some of the aspirants know they haven't a chance in the world. But they are busy themselves building up claims in the hope of grabbing off second place.

The field of runners as it lines up at the starting tape today is as follows:

The Line-Up

Herbert Hoover, 61, has told friends he is not seeking the nomination; but neither they nor Republican leaders believe he means it. The consensus of opinion among them is that the former President still is smarting under his 1932 defeat, would like to carry the GOP banner in 1936.

Arthur H. Vandenberg, 51, lawyer, author of several books dealing with Alexander Hamilton and former newspaper publisher. Massively built, inclined to be pontifical, Vandenberg owes his prominence as a nomination possibility to his re-election last year as Senator from Michigan when practically everyone—including himself—had given up hope. Vandenberg says he is not a presidential candidate—a claim that few Republican leaders will dispute.

Lester J. (Hell-roaring) Dickson, 42, Senator from Iowa, tall, white-haired, built-voiced, an old-fashioned high-tariff Republican who privately is convinced he is the party's best bet and the most logical choice.

Hamilton (Ham) Fish, Jr., 46, towering, wordy social registerite, a member of the House for eight terms from the district that includes the President's country home in New York. As captain of a famous Harvard football team Fish covered himself with fame and glory and has been striving ever since to live up to that reputation. To push his nomination chances he issues statements on the slightest provocation.

Banjo-Eyes

Glenn Frank, 48, president of the University of Wisconsin, dark-lipped, banjo-eyed and one of the most facile word jugglers in the country. He rates himself a "constructive" liberal—whatever that is. Mrs. Frank has assured friends that she "just knows Glenn will be President." Where she got this information is not divulged.

Frank Knox, 61, full name William Franklin, burly, sandy-complexioned publisher of the arch-Republican Chicago Daily News and in the front rank as a serious contender. Knox has powerful political and big business backing all over the country and, his friends whisper, the secret blessing of Hoover. If Knox should win the nomination it would be a matter of great personal anguish to Colonel Robert McCormick, his rival Chicago Republican publisher, who views Knox with strong disfavor.

Alfred Mossman (Alf) London, 48, Governor of Kansas. A wealthy, independent oil operator, London twice has carried off state in the face of Democratic landslide. This and the fact that he has geography on his side has made him more than a mere "favorite son" possibility. Some of the Senate liberals who view Knox's big business contacts with dark suspicion are decidedly cordial to London.

NAZIS ORDER 12 U-BOATS

Three Shipyards Have Been Instructed to Lay Keels; British To Act.

LONDON, April 29—Orders to lay the keels of Germany's twelve new 250-ton submarines have been given to shipyards at Hamburg, Kiel and Stettin, it was stated in a Reuter dispatch from Berlin today.

Work has not actually been started as yet, according to the dispatch, although travellers from Rostock, Lubbeck, Stettin, and other Baltic ports report great activity in the shipyards.

Among the activities at Rostock is construction of a great seaplane base of the most modern design.

LONDON, April 29—A bigger British navy—going beyond the limitations of the Washington and London treaties—loomed as a possibility today as leading cabinet ministers assembled to consider Germany's submarine-building program.

In naval circles it was felt that Germany's naval preparations will force Britain to reconsider her position under the London treaty, with possible invocation of the "escalator clause" in article 21, which covers a situation such as has now arisen.

TRAINS KILL FIVE

By International News Service

Railroad crossing accidents in Ohio over the weekend took at least five lives and injured at least three persons.

An automobile, containing four youths, crashed through lowered gates at a crossing in East Palestine, witnesses said. A Pennsylvania limited struck the car, demolishing it and killing its four occupants. Those killed were Carl, 24, Omar, 22, and William Renner, 20, brothers, and Jesse Walker, 24, all of Enom Valley, Pa.

Another train-auto crash killed Mrs. Albert Lawrence, 33, Cleveland, and critically injured her husband and another couple.

Furnishes No Clue

Countess Rina de Liguora

Hollywood police said Countess Rina de Liguora, above, concert pianist and film actress, could offer no clue to the mysterious slaying of Paul Ivar and the suicide later of Ivar's chauffeur, William Howard, after he had severely wounded Henry Bolte, law and sociology instructor. A telegram addressed to the countess had been found in Ivar's apartment. Police later said the countess had no connection with the case.

MAYOR SENDS FOUR TO JAIL

Carl Purcell, Chris Levisy Jailed For Driving While Intoxicated.

Mayor W. B. Cady before long may have established a habit that may be hard to break. Every Monday morning in recent weeks he has had the painful duty of sending some of the city's and county's residents across the street to the county jail for a little rest cure.

Monday, April 29, was no exception.

Resting in the comfort of the county bastille today was Carl Purcell, local athlete, who imbibed too much, took the Ford V-8 truck of George Myers, cement man, from its garage and wrecked it. Purcell was fined $100 and costs for driving while intoxicated and was warned not to drive a car for six months. Whether Myers will file any charges against him in connection with the removal of the truck from his garage is unknown. The cement man is in Indianapolis.

Chris Levisy, New Holland young man, was in the county jail for the same length of time on a similar charge. He was picked up during the night.

Mayor Cady ordered two others across the street on intoxication charges. Lufe Eby was given $25 and costs and Bee Jones, who gave her occupation as a farm laborer, got $10 and costs. She didn't want to go to jail but went anyway.

George Griffey, Harry Ogan and Kenneth Cox were arrested for intoxication and told not to come back any more. A $5 fine for Cox was suspended on good behavior.

DUPONT, 70, DEAD

WILMINGTON, Del., April 29—Alfred Irenee Dupont, industrialist, philanthropist, politician, organizer and former head of the Dupont De Nemours and Company, died suddenly at his Jacksonville, Fla., estate at the age of 70.

Death followed a heart attack suffered last Thursday by the wealthy member of the noted Delaware family of Du Ponts, explosives and chemical manufacturers.

GRANTED DIVORCE. GETS NEW HUBBY

An entry granting Louise Rutter Glenn a divorce from George Glenn, residence unknown, had been filed in common pleas court Monday. Mrs. Glenn was restored to her maiden name, Louise Rutter.

The probate court marriage-license docket showed today that a license was issued this morning to Miss Rutter and Herman Smith and they were married by Rev. J. Barthelmas.

CADY APPOINTS THIRD ON CIVIL SERVICE BOARD

H. E. Bartholomew Fills Vacancy Left By Death of William H. Mason.

Mayor W. B. Cady announced today that he has appointed Harry E. Bartholomew, E. Mound-st., as a member of the civil service commission to fill the place left vacant by the death of William H. Mason, N. Court-st., who had served on the board a number of years.

Mr. Bartholomew has been sworn in.

The board, which also includes James McLaughlin and Wade H. Cook, the latter the Republican member, will meet tonight to organize. Mr. Mason had served as president, McLaughlin as vice president and Cook as clerk.

Examination May 7

The commission has an examination scheduled for Tuesday, May 7, after which an eligible list will be selected for police and fire chief and police and firemen. At present there is no one on either eligible list.

Persons planning to take the examination can obtain blanks from Mr. McLaughlin at his business place, 114 S. Scioto-st. Any other information sought can also be obtained from him.

3 PRISONERS FLEE JOLIET

Fourth Falls Suffers Broken Legs, Then Stuffs Mouth To Prevent Cries.

JOLIET, Ill., April 29—With a heavy wrench, three convicts at the old penitentiary here broke the bars of their cell in the diagnostic building, lowered themselves to the ground with an electric cord, scaled the prison wall, and escaped early today.

The break was discovered when guards heard the moans of a fourth convict, Martin "Big Six" Schroeder, who fell 30 feet to the ground when his 272 pounds snapped the cord. Both of his legs were broken.

The fugitives are Ed Martin, 30, of Joe Davies-co, a robber; George Patterson, 45, of Williamson-co, a forger, and William Kirkpatrick, 33, of Peoria-co, a robber.

A fifth convict, Ed Kazia, 41, of Chicago, was invited to join the break. His refusal angered the four and they tied him and hid him in a washroom.

After his fall Schroeder, with both legs broken, crawled six or five feet and hid behind a sink pile. He stuffed clothing in his mouth to keep from crying out again.

MRS. INGMIRE, 79, LAURELVILLE, DIES

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the United Brethren church in Laurelville for Mrs. Mary Alice Ingmire, 79, who died Saturday at 6:40 p. m. of complications at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Pretty, in Laurelville.

Resides the sister at whose home she died she leaves one brother, F. M. Wilson of this city; four sons, Miss Esther Ingmire of Marion and Mrs. Alice Moore of Columbus, and two children by a former marriage, Ernest Dennis of Texas and Carl Dennis of Columbus.

WOODS GIRL HELD

Alice Woods, 15, was placed in the custody of juvenile authorities by police today. She will be given a hearing before Judge C. C. Young Tuesday at 9:30 a. m.

The girl was sent home after midnight Saturday and was again picked up today at 2 a. m. Monday by police.

BRICKER HITS RELIEF BILLS IN HIS RULING

Says Counties Should Not Stand Expense of County Relief Offices

STILLMAN FEARFUL

May Have to Combine Counties, He Says

COLUMBUS, April 29—Relief headquarters in many of Ohio's 88 counties may be abandoned as a result of Attorney General Bricker's ruling prohibiting counties from spending county funds for maintenance of relief offices, C. C. Stillman, federal relief administrator for Ohio, declared today.

"If federal relief funds must be spent to maintain all the county

Auditor Ferrest Short said this afternoon that the commissioners have not been notified of Bricker's ruling therefore have taken no action. The county pays a large part, if not all, the expenses to maintain relief offices here.

relief headquarters, we will probably have to combine several counties for relief purposes," Stillman said.

While Bricker's ruling pointed out that legislation passed by the house and awaiting action in the senate, gives counties express permission to appropriate funds for emergency relief purposes, Stillman said expenditure of additional federal funds would undoubtedly be required to maintain offices in many Ohio counties.

May Pay All Cost

"The federal administration already pays all expenses of some county headquarters and it might be necessary to pay the full cost of maintaining other county headquarters, but it would probably be necessary to eliminate many county offices, administering relief for several counties from one central headquarters," Stillman suggested.

The Ohio relief executive said he has received no official notice of the attorney general's ruling, but indicated he would notify federal authorities of his decision at once.

"We will have to formulate a

Georgia to Quit Union?

Tom Linder

Governor Talmadge

As a means of ending friction between state and federal government, Tom Linder, Georgia state commissioner of agriculture, has proposed the secession of Georgia from the United States. In an article published in the State Market Bulletin, official organ of the Georgia department of agriculture, Linder denounced President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace and declared Roosevelt was following Republican and Socialist platforms instead of Democratic platforms. Linder, a chief spokesman for Gov. Eugene Talmadge, right, one of the most outspoken critics of the New Deal administration, also lambasted the cotton processing tax now in force.

KINSER HOME IS ENTERED

Money, Watch, Clothing Are Taken While Family Is Away From Home.

Clark Kinser, S. Scioto-st. reported to police Sunday night that someone entered his home between 10 a. m. and 9 p. m. Sunday while he was away and stole $35 in money, a wrist watch and all Mrs. Kinser's lingerie.

The thief entered the house through a rear window, Officer George Green, who investigated, reported.

A report that the home of Mrs. Francis Lamaster, E. Ohio-st. was robbed of $13, was reported unfounded by police.

ATTEND RITES FOR FORMER COUNTESS

Mrs. N. E. Thomas and son Robert and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thomas attended the funeral Monday for the late Mrs. Agnes G. Carpenter who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Sherman, in Columbus.

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Columbus Man, Woman Are Treated For Cuts After Auto Slides.

Two Columbus residents, Harry Betts and Alice Enright, were treated at Berger hospital before noon Monday for injuries suffered in an automobile accident near Williamsport.

Mr. Betts, who lives on N. Fifth-st. had a broken nose and cuts and lacerations about the face. Miss Enright, a resident of Third-ave, had a badly cut ear.

They were discharged after treatment by Dr. G. D. Sheets. Both were taken to the hospital in the C. E. Hill ambulance.

They were riding in Betts' car enroute to Williamsport where they intended to fish in Deer creek and visit Betts' brother, Ray. The car struck a rough place in the highway east of Williamsport and skidded into a culvert in front of the tenant house on the John Hunsicker farm. Miss Enright was diving.

After treatment both were taken to the Ray Betts home.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH FIRST CAMPAIGN GUN

Radio Talk Considered Answer to Long, Coughlin, Townsend, G. O. P.

AWAKENS CONGRESS

Rebuilding Going on Despite His Critics

WASHINGTON, April 29—President Roosevelt's fireside talk to the country was regarded on Capitol hill today as being more than a mere report on what the administration has done and is seeking to accomplish—it was interpreted as a political paper of prime importance.

It constituted, in fact, Mr. Roosevelt's personal reply to the Huey Longs, the Father Coughlins, the Dr. Townsends, and others who are far to the left of the administration with their share-the-wealth ideas and inflationist schemes. And his reply as well to the Republicans who are now organizing to attack his program as socialistic, radical, and destructive of constitutional guarantees.

Named "Opening Gun"

In that light, Mr. Roosevelt's speech was considered the opening gun in the presidential campaign of 1936 now only a year away.

It was a middle-of-the-road speech, with the Longs and the Coughlins on the left, and the reorganizing Republicans on the right.

And indirectly, too, it was an appeal to the country over the heads of a somewhat recalcitrant congress for public support of legislation now in dispute in both houses—the social security act, the NRA extension, the holding company bill, and transportation and banking legislation.

A flood of telegrams began pouring in on the White House after Mr. Roosevelt finished last night and continued through this morning. Some were critical, but the great majority were eulogistic in tone and content.

The very timing of the president's speech was politically significant. It came after a period of intense activity on the part of the administration's critics.

Hits Four Foes

Within the past fortnight, Father Coughlin has organized his union for social justice and put it definitely into the political arena; Huey Long has invaded the middle west with his share-the-wealth, every-man-a-king evangelism; Dr. Townsend has returned to the far west to bedevil anew the demands for $200 monthly old age pensions; while far to the right the Republicans have been busily organizing regional conferences in an effort to draw their shattered forces together into a cohesive

SCHOOL DEBT OF CITY IS LOWEST

Cuyahoga Falls, Akron Have Highest Debt in Schools and Municipalities.

COLUMBUS, April 29—Cuyahoga Falls and Akron have the highest percentage school and municipal debts in the state, Dr. T. C. Holy, of the bureau of educational research at Ohio State university, disclosed today.

While the average Ohio city school district at the close of 1933 had a bonded indebtedness for school, municipal and county purposes, of 7.97 per cent of its total school tax duplicate, Cuyahoga Falls had a school debt percentage of 7.86 per cent and a total of 10.23 per cent. Akron had a municipal debt percentage of 8.08.

The average school debt in city school districts was 2.33 per cent; average municipal debt 3.89 and average county debt 1.75 per cent of the total school duplicate.

Circleville had the lowest percentage bonded school debt, .45 per cent; Fremont the lowest municipal debt, .05 per cent and Van Wert the lowest county debt, .03 per cent.

Schools to Present May Day Festival for Public

BY JOHN GRIFFITH

Presenting Dorothy Fohl as the Queen and supplemented by the Queen and supplemented by the May Pole dances, the first May Day festival in many years will be given by the Circleville schools on Wednesday, May 1.

The celebration will take place on the athletic field and will begin at 6 o'clock.

No admission will be charged to either pupils or public. A cordial invitation is extended to all. One of the many interesting events will be the crowning of Miss Fohl as May Queen. She was selected by popular vote of the student body from among eight candidates for the honor, two being chosen from each class.

The queen, Miss Mary Newberry, 15, of Nelsonson, June West, 14, of Hummel, A. ne Viers, 14, of Ann Sapp and Doris Mott, 14, will act as the crowners and will wear beautiful coronas.

Miss May Day Queen assisted by a corps of girls will have charge of the May Pole dances and singing. Representing the grade teachers are Miss Brown, Miss May, Miss Reid, Miss Tolbert and Miss Helen Yates. From the main school are Miss Rains, Miss Davis and Miss Hitter, Girl Reserve, who are in charge of the Court of Honor and the girls track meet.

Two of the May Pole dances will be given by pupils of the fourth grade and another by the eighth grade. A series of dances will also be presented by pupils chosen from the first four grades. Group singing will furnish a background for these events.

Music will be furnished by Mr. Zaenglein and his band.

History Traced

The first May Day goes back to Rome. It was in England, however, that the May Pole dances began, and this country, therefore, has her name linked with all May Day festivities.

Present May Day festivals reproduce as accurately as possible the English custom and her Court. Daily practices are being held by grade children for their part in the program.

Fourth Falls Suffers Broken Legs, Then Stuffs Mouth To Prevent Cries.

JOLIET, Ill., April 29—With a heavy wrench, three convicts at the old penitentiary here broke the bars of their cell in the diagnostic building, lowered themselves to the ground with an electric cord, scaled the prison wall, and escaped early today.

The break was discovered when guards heard the moans of a fourth convict, Martin "Big Six" Schroeder, who fell 30 feet to the ground when his 272 pounds snapped the cord. Both of his legs were broken.

The fugitives are Ed Martin, 30, of Joe Davies-co, a robber; George Patterson, 45, of Williamson-co, a forger, and William Kirkpatrick, 33, of Peoria-co, a robber.

A fifth convict, Ed Kazda, 41 of Chicago, was invited to join the break. His refusal angered the four and they tied him and hid him in a washroom.

After his fall Schroeder, with both legs broken, crawled seventy-five feet and hid behind a junk pile. He stuffed clothing in his mouth to keep from crying out in pain.

MRS. INGMIRE, 79, LAURELVILLE, DIES

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the United Brethren church in Laurelville for Mrs. Mary Alice Ingmire, 79, who died Saturday at 6:40 p. m. of complications at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Pretty, in Laurelville.

Besides the sister at whose home she died she leaves one brother, F. M. Wilson of this city; four children, Miss Esther Ingmire of Marion and Mrs. Alice Moore of Columbus, and two children by a former marriage, Ernest Dennis of Texas and Carl Dennis of Columbus.

WOODS GIRL HELD

Alice Woods, 15, was placed in the custody of juvenile authorities by police today. She will be given a hearing before Judge C. C. Young Tuesday at 9:30 a. m.

The girl was sent home after midnight Saturday and was again found up town at 2 a. m. Monday by police.

BRICKER HITS RELIEF BILLS IN HIS RULING

Says Counties Should Not Stand Expense of County Relief Offices

STILLMAN FEARFUL

May Have to Combine Counties, He Says

COLUMBUS, April 29—Relief headquarters in many of Ohio's 88 counties may be abandoned as a result of Attorney General Bricker's ruling prohibiting counties from spending county funds for maintenance of relief offices, C. C. Stillman, federal relief administrator for Ohio, declared today.

"If federal relief funds must be spent to maintain all the county

Auditor Forrest Short said this afternoon that the commissioners have not been notified of Bricker's ruling therefore have taken no action. The county pays a large part, if not all, the expenses to maintain relief offices here.

relief headquarters, we will probably have to combine several counties for relief purposes," Stillman said.

While Bricker's ruling pointed out that legislation passed by the house and awaiting action in the senate, gives counties express permission to appropriate funds for emergency relief purposes, Stillman said expenditure of additional federal funds would undoubtedly be required to maintain offices in many Ohio counties.

May Pay All Cost

"The federal administration already pays all expenses of some county headquarters and it might be necessary to pay the full cost of maintaining other county headquarters, but it would probably be necessary to eliminate many county offices, administering relief for several counties from one central headquarters," Stillman suggested. The Ohio relief executive said he has received no official notice of the attorney general's ruling, but indicated he would notify federal authorities of his decision at once.

"We will have to formulate a

Georgia to Quit Union?

Tom Linder

Governor Talmadge

As a means of ending friction between state and federal government, Tom Linder, Georgia state commissioner of agriculture, has proposed the secession of Georgia from the United States. In an article published in the State Market Bulletin, official organ of the Georgia department of agriculture, Linder denounced President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace and declared Roosevelt was following Republican and Socialist platforms instead of Democratic platforms. Linder, a chief spokesman for Gov. Eugene Talmadge, right, one of the most outspoken critics of the New Deal administration, also lambasted the cotton processing tax now in force.

KINSER HOME IS ENTERED

Money, Watch, Clothing Are Taken While Family Is Away From Home.

Clark Kinser, S. Scioto-st. reported to police Sunday night that someone entered his home between 10 a. m. and 9 p. m. Sunday while he was away and stole $35 in money, a wrist watch and all Mrs. Kinser's lingerie.

The thief entered the house through a rear window, Officer George Green, who investigated, reported.

A report that the home of Mrs. Francis Lamaster, E. Ohio-st. was robbed of $13, was reported unfounded by police.

Schools to Present May Day Festival for Public

BY JOHN GRIFFITH

Presenting Dorothy Fohl as the May Queen and supplemented by May Pole dances the first May Day festival in many years will be given by the Circleville schools on Wednesday, May 1.

The celebration will take place on the athletic field and will begin at 3 o'clock.

No admission will be charged to either pupils or public. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

One of the many interesting events will be the crowning of Miss Fohl as May Queen. She was selected by popular vote of the student body from among eight candidates for the honor, two being chosen from each class.

These girls were Mary Newmeyer, Betty Nickerson, June West, Rosemary Hammel, Arne Vleerhome, Mary Ann Sapp and Doris Moffitt. They will act as the Court of Honor, and will wear beautifully colored gowns.

Mrs. Ray W. Davis assisted by a corps of grade teachers will have charge of the May Pole dances and singing. Representing the grade teachers are Miss Brown, Miss Rowe, Miss Reid, Miss Tolbert and Miss Helen Yates. From the high school are Miss Rains, Miss Ryan and Miss Hitler, Girl Reserve advisors, who are in charge of the Court of Honor and the girls track meet.

Two of the May Pole dances will be given by pupils of the fourth grade and another by the eighth grade. A series of dances will also be presented by pupils chosen from the first four grades. Group singing will furnish a background for these events.

Music will be furnished by Mr. Zaenglein and his band.

History Traced

The first May Day goes back to Rome. It was in England, however, that the May Pole dances began, and this country, therefore, has her name linked with all May Day festivities.

Present May Day festivals reproduce as accurately as possible the English Queen and her Court. Daily practices are being held by grade children for their part in the program.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH FIRST CAMPAIGN GUN

Radio Talk Considered Answer to Long, Coughlin, Townsend, G. O. P.

AWAKENS CONGRESS

Rebuilding Going on Despite His Critics

WASHINGTON, April 29—President Roosevelt's fireside talk to the country was regarded on Capitol hill today as being more than a mere report on what the administration has done and is seeking to accomplish—it was interpreted as a political paper of prime importance.

It constituted, in fact, Mr. Roosevelt's personal reply to the Huey Longs, the Father Coughlins, the Dr. Townsends, and others who are far to the left of the administration with their share-the-wealth ideas and inflationist schemes. And his reply as well to the Republicans who are now organizing to attack his program as socialist, radical, and destructive of constitutional guarantees.

Named "Opening Gun"

In that light, Mr. Roosevelt's speech was considered the opening gun in the presidential campaign of 1936 now only a year away.

It was a middle-of-the-road speech, with the Longs and the Coughlins on the left, and the reorganizing Republicans on the right.

And indirectly, too, it was an appeal to the country over the heads of a somewhat recalcitrant congress for public support of legislation now in dispute in both houses—the social security act, the NRA extension, the holding company bill, and transportation and banking legislation.

A flood of telegrams began descending on the White House soon after Mr. Roosevelt finished last night and continued through this morning. Some were critical, but the great majority were eulogistic in tone and content.

The very timing of the president's speech was politically significant. It came after a period of intense activity on the part of the administration's critics.

Hits Four Foes

Within the past fortnight, Father Coughlin has organized his union for social justice and put it definitely into the political arena; Huey Long has invaded the middle west with his share-the-wealth, every-man-a-king evangelism; Dr. Townsend has returned to the far west to bekindle anew the demands for $200 monthly old age pensions; while far to the right the Republicans have been busily organizing regional conferences in an effort to draw their shattered forces together into a cohesive

SCHOOL DEBT OF CITY IS LOWEST

Cuyahoga Falls, Akron Have Highest Debt in Schools and Municipalities.

COLUMBUS, April 29—Cuyahoga Falls and Akron have the highest percentage school and municipal debts in the state, Dr. T. C. Holy, of the bureau of educational research at Ohio State university, disclosed today.

While the average Ohio city school district at the close of 1933 had a bonded indebtedness for school, municipal and county purposes, of 7.97 per cent of its total school tax duplicate, Cuyahoga Falls had a school debt percentage of 7.86 per cent and a total of 16.23 per cent. Akron had a municipal debt percentage of 8.08. The average school debt in city school districts was 2.33 per cent; average municipal debt 3.89 and average county debt 1.75 per cent of the total school duplicate.

Circleville had the lowest percentage bonded school debt, .45 per cent; Fremont the lowest municipal debt, .005 per cent and Van Wert the lowest county debt, .03 per cent.

unit of opposition to Roosevelt policies.

To the left-wing Democrats and the right-wing Republicans, who alike have charged Mr. Roosevelt with failure to bring the country out of the depression, he replied, in effect, that recovery is here.

"Never since my inauguration in March 1933, have I felt so unmistakably the atmosphere of recovery," he said.

To his critics in all categories, right or left, he said the constructive re-building of the country is being accomplished "in spite of the few who seek to confuse them (the people) and to profit by their confusion."

The timing of Mr. Roosevelt's speech was significant in still another direction. The United States Chamber of Commerce meets in Washington this week. It represents organized business, and it has been growing at much of the pending legislation which the President went out of his way to endorse last night—the holding company bill, the banking legislation, and the social security program, among others.

Bent C of C to Punch
Anticipating that the chamber is going to adopt a series of commendatory resolutions on this legislation, Mr. Roosevelt simply took advantage of the opportunity to beat the Chamber to the punch.

There was one omission in the president's list of "must" legislation that attracted wide attention. He did not mention the amendments to the AAA and the continuation of the processing taxes, which have aroused probably more violent opposition than any other part of the program. New England and the deep south have been bombarding Washington with complaints on the cotton processing taxes, and demanding their abolition. Under the circumstances, the president's failure to mention these taxes was, to say the least, conspicuous.

GOV. HORNER IN ACTION IN RELIEF CRISIS

Distribution of Aid To End at Midnight Tuesday Unless FERA Acts.

CHICAGO, April 29—The 9,800 employees of the Illinois Emergency relief commission will cease distributing relief at the rate of about $12,000,000 a month at midnight tomorrow, unless Gov. Henry Horner is able to obtain FERA assistance as a result of his Washington conference with Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins today.

Unless the federal help is procured, relief stations in 101 Illinois counties will be "closed until further notice."

Stations in Cook-co closed Saturday.

The FERA has refused to contribute further to Illinois relief until the state arranges to contribute its share—$3,000,000 a month.

As Gov. Horner sought to alleviate the situation, Illinois communities desperately strove to provide for the one million persons dependent on the Illinois emergency relief commission for food, shelter, fuel, medical attention and clothing.

In addition to the 1,000,000 dependent on the commission, almost 10,000 commission employees will be thrown out of work.

Relief in Cook-co will continue for a time as the result of the sale of $1,200,000 in poor relief bonds by the county commissioners. But, downstate no relief will be possible after Tuesday unless city and county administrators follow the lead of Cook-co.

Revenue measures which would provide the funds demanded of the state by the FERA have passed the state senate, and will come up tomorrow in the house for advancement to the final reading.

CITE 'GRUDGE' FOR SLAYING OF OHIOAN, 13

Eccentric Bachelor, 52, Arrested in Cambridge After Youth is Slain.

CAMBRIDGE, April 29—Taken into custody 15 minutes after 13-year-old Charles Paden was shot and killed while playing with a group of children in front of a grocery store here, Maurice Brislen, 52, described by police as an eccentric bachelor, was held in jail today facing charges of murder.

Brislen, police said, confessed shooting the boy because of "an old grudge."

The shooting took place, police said, when the boy remonstrated against the man's efforts to draw him away from his playmates. He cried, "you leave me alone." Brislen then drew a .32-caliber revolver and shot the boy through the head and through the heart, authorities claimed.

Police quoted Brislen as declaring in his alleged statement that after he fired one shot "I didn't think he had enough and I shot him again."

The boy was the son of Mrs. Ella Peden, a widow. Brislen is a former glass worker.

After the shooting, according to police, Brislen left the scene. He was taken into custody 15 minutes later at his home. Police said they found a revolver in the house from which two shots had been fired. The weapon was discovered hidden under a furnace.

Assertion that murder charges would be filed against the man was made by Melton Boyd, county prosecutor, who conducted an investigation into the slaying.

Revival is Underway at United Brethren Church

The revival which has been in progress at the United Brethren Church for one week received added spiritual power and interest Sunday. The Rev. Dewey Whitwell, evangelist, from Nashville, Tenn., who will be in charge of these services for the next two weeks, arrived Saturday and was greeted Sunday by two large audiences.

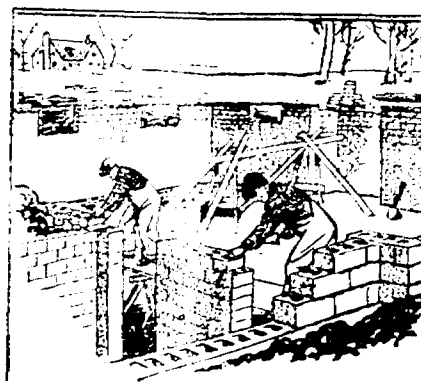

The evangelist spoke Sunday morning on "The Price of a Revival." He emphasized the fact that the most expensive thing a church can undertake is a real revival. He stated that many churches have gone out of the revival business because they are not willing to pay the price. He said in part: "Many laymen would gladly increase their contributions to the church in order to avoid a revival. There are certain things every church must do in order to have a revival and many are not willing to do these things."

"Among the things that a revival will cost is that of a thorough preparation on the part of the church. Every one from the pastor down must be well saved and thoroughly consecrated. Here is where many fail."

THE SERVICES WILL BEGIN EACH EVENING AT 7:30 P. M.

Rev. T. C. Harper, pastor, predicts a great revival and he thinks that the church will be filled each evening. The subject tonight will be, "The First Church." The pastor expresses his appreciation to the neighbor pastors and their laymen for their presence Sunday evening. He hopes that every church in Circleville will cooperate with these meetings and receive a great blessing from them.

GOV. HORNER IN ACTION IN RELIEF CRISIS

Distribution of Aid To End at Midnight Tuesday Unless FERA Acts.

CHICAGO, April 29—The 9,800 employees of the Illinois Emergency relief commission will cease distributing relief at the rate of about $12,000,000 a month at midnight tomorrow, unless Gov. Henry Horner is able to obtain FERA assistance as a result of his Washington conference with Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins today.

Unless the federal help is procured, relief stations in 101 Illinois counties will be "closed until further notice."

Stations in Cook-co closed Saturday.

The FERA has refused to contribute further to Illinois relief until the state arranges to contribute its share—$3,000,000 a month.

As Gov. Horner sought to alleviate the situation, Illinois communities desperately strove to provide for the one million persons dependent on the Illinois emergency relief commission for food, shelter, fuel, medical attention and clothing.

In addition to the 1,000,000 dependent on the commission, almost 10,000 commission employees will be thrown out of work.

Relief in Cook-co will continue for a time as the result of the sale of $1,200,000 in poor relief bonds by the county commissioners. But downstate no relief will be possible after Tuesday unless city and county administrators follow the lead of Cook-co.

Revenue measures which would provide the funds demanded of the state by the FERA have passed the state senate, and will come up tomorrow in the house for advancement to the final reading.

Revival is Underway at United Brethren Church

The revival which has been in progress at the United Brethren Church for one week received added spiritual power and interest Sunday. The Rev. Dewey Whitwell, evangelist, from Nashville, Tenn., who will be in charge of these services for the next two weeks, arrived Saturday and was greeted Sunday by two large audiences.

The evangelist spoke Sunday morning on "The Price of a Revival." He emphasized the fact that the most expensive thing a church can undertake is a real revival. He stated that many churches have gone out of the revival business because they are not willing to pay the price. He said in part: "Many laymen would gladly increase their contributions to the church in order to avoid a revival. There are certain things every church must do in order to have a revival and many are not willing to do these things."

"Among the things that a revival will cost is that of a thorough preparation on the part of the church. Every one from the pastor down must be well saved and thoroughly consecrated. Here is where many fail."

CITE 'GRUDGE' FOR SLAYING OF OHIOAN, 13

Eccentric Bachelor, 52, Arrested in Cambridge After Youth is Slain.

CAMBRIDGE, April 29—Taken into custody 15 minutes after 13-year-old Charles Paden was shot and killed while playing with a group of children in front of a grocery store here, Maurice Brislen, 52, described by police as an eccentric bachelor, was held in jail today facing charges of murder.

Brislen, police said, confessed shooting the boy because of "an old grudge."

The shooting took place, police said, when the boy remonstrated against the man's efforts to draw him away from his playmates. He cried, "you leave me alone." Brislen then drew a .32-caliber revolver and shot the boy through the head and through the heart, authorities claimed.

Police quoted Brislen as declaring in his alleged statement that after he fired one shot "I didn't think he had enough and I shot him again."

The boy was the son of Mrs. Etta Peden, a widow. Brislen is a former glass worker.

After the shooting, according to police, Brislen left the scene. He was taken into custody 15 minutes later at his home. Police said they found a revolver in the house from which two shots had been fired. The weapon was discovered hidden under a furnace.

Assertion that murder charges would be filed against the man was made by Melton Boyd, county prosecutor, who conducted an investigation into the slaying.

ASHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL TO PRESENT OPERETTA

The music department of the Ashville high school under the direction of the music instructors, Miss Eliza Plumm and Fred Probst, will present a three-act operetta, "Betty Lou, the Dream Girl," in the school auditorium, Tuesday evening.

Characters will be portrayed by John Peters, Hewitt Cronley, Jeffie Sturgell, Elmer Mallory, Jim Gray, Kenneth Rinehart and Misses Isabel Graham, Francine Runkle, Maxine Canter, Katherine Baum and Jean Vause.

A dancing chorus of eight girls, Gretchen Hedges, Lucille Hedges, Rebecca Hedges, Ruth Court-right, Caroline Kuhlwein, Margaret Berry, Esther Ann Reid, and Ruth Hoffman will present four dances.

There will also be a mixed chorus supporting the cast at various times during the presentation.

Miss Helen Spindler will be piano accompanist for the musical numbers, and music between acts will be furnished by the high school orchestra.

VIOLET McDOWELL HONOREE ON BIRTHDAY

For the pleasure of her daughter, Violet, on her sixth birthday anniversary, Mrs. G. D. McDowell, N. Scioto-st., entertained a group of small friends at their home Saturday afternoon.

Circus games were played and circus stories were told for the diversions of the merry hours, and the circus idea was carried out in the serving of refreshments to the group. Attractive decorations were used and there was a clever favor for each guest.

Virginia and George Jr. assisted their mother in entertaining the small friends including Ruth Brooks, Florence Bowers, Sybil Bragg, Charlene Lewis, Marilyn Porter, Elizabeth Stevenson, Margaret Jean Stevenson, Sherann and Francis Liskhart, Wanda Young, Donna Morgan, Russell Harrison, David Harrison, Paul Lamy, Ann Renick, Donna Jean Howell and Violet.

MRS. LISTON HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Willis Liston, Elm-ave., entertained the members of her bridge club, Saturday evening, at her home.

Two tables of cards were in progress and when tallies were added favors for high score were presented Miss Mary Roth and Mrs. George Gerhardt.

A dainty lunch was served after the game.

In two weeks the club will meet with Miss Jean Fitzpatrick, Elm-ave.

MR. WITTICH, MISS CLARKE ON MUSICAL PROGRAM

Loring Wittich, violinist, and Miss Abbe Mills Clarke, pianist, were among the artists on the program at the meeting of the Columbus Variety club, Saturday evening, at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Raper, well-known here, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Redman were hosts at the meeting.

Other artists appearing on the program were Miss Agnes Wright and Mr. Eldon Howells, duo-pianists and Mr. Samuel Thompson Wilson, basso, with Miss Wright as his accompanist.

Mr. Wittich, who was accompanied by Miss Clarke, played Russian Ains by Wieniawski, Caprice Viennois by Kreisler and Tamberlain Chinois also by Kreisler.

MRS. KING HOSTESS TO DAUGHTERS OF 1812

Mrs. Orion King, W. High-st., was hostess Saturday afternoon, when members of the Captain Jonathan Alder chapter Daughters of 1812 met for their monthly session at her home.

Mrs. King, president of the organization, presided during a business meeting after which Mrs. Glenn L. Nickerson read an interesting paper on "Storekeepers of Pioneer Days."

Refreshments were served later in the afternoon by Mrs. King, Mrs. Helen Black Anderson and Mrs. John Boggs.

The group at the meeting included: Mrs. Mary Beech Bidwell, state regent, Mrs. John Copeland, Mrs. John Tanner of London, Miss Stella Miller, Mrs. Clark Beal, Mrs. Robert Trimble, Mrs. J. Wilson McCafferty and Miss Louise Neff of Mt. Sterling, and Mrs. G. L. Schiear, Mrs. Nickerson, Miss Charlotte Caldwell and the hostesses.

FORMER RESIDENT HERE TO MARRY IN JUNE

The wedding of Miss Kathryn Sanders, former resident here, and Mr. Dale Reider of Orrville, will be an event of June. Announcement of the engagement is being made by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Allen of Cedarville, also former residents of this city.

Miss Sanders attended Ohio State university and is a graduate of Capital university of Music, Columbus, and of Wittenberg college, Springfield. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and has been music supervisor in the Orrville public schools for the past five years. While at Capital, she was prominent in campus activities and was May queen in 1929.

Mr. Reider attended Ohio State university and is affiliated with the Orrville Condensing Co.

Better LIGHT - Better SIGHT

The home that is adequately wired for many needed OUTLETS is the BRIGHTER home, in which there are happier people with better vision.

Plenty of LIGHT, scientifically applied and used, is a constant protection for the eyes. Too frequently, it occurs, that some member of the family is compelled to use "second-rate", reflected and too-far-removed light. This means, of course, eye strain. Allow us to examine your rooms, study the outlet possibilities, and make it possible for everyone to have the light their eyes deserve. It is more economical to do this than to go through life doctoring faulty vision.

PATTERN 5347

The beret, that perennial favorite (and the reason for that is because it's flattering to all of us), is doubly charming in crochet.

That clever designer, Alice Brooks, offers you this lovely lacy one, accented with popcorns. It's so lacy that it will be just the thing for warm weather. It keeps your hair nicely in place and yet you are dressed for any occasion. The purse repeats the type of design used in the beret—and it's a bag that you'll have use of on many occasions.

In pattern 5347 you will find complete instructions for making the set shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Dept., 124 W. Main-st., Circleville, O.

The home that is adequately wired for many needed OUTLETS is the BRIGHTER home, in which there are happier people with better vision.

Plenty of LIGHT, scientifically applied and used, is a constant protection for the eyes. Too frequently, it occurs, that some member of the family is compelled to use "second-rate," reflected and too-far-removed light. This means... of course... eye strain.

Allow us to examine your rooms... study the outlet possibilities, and make it possible for everyone to have the light their eyes deserve. It is more economical to do this than to go through life doctoring faulty vision.

FREE PUBLIC EDUCATION

THREE HUNDRED YEARS AGO high school education was begun in America with the founding of the Boston Public Latin School. The succeeding centuries have brought this country to the absolute peak in free public education.

No other land gives free education to as many persons. The right to learn at public expense is well known universal in the United States, and in none of the forty-eight commonwealths is it confined to elements. Billions of dollars of tax-raised money have been poured out upon education up through the high schools, with many states furnishing even college education to their sons and daughters at far less than cost.

Though there are those who cavil to the extent to which the free educative process has developed, there is no single object on which public funds are expended with more general approval. Graduates of the public school systems have risen to highest position officially, financially, socially and spiritually in their respective states. This same is true in the nation.

If the bill of right guarantees to the citizens of our land what in others would be regarded as inestimable privileges, the public school system is one inestimable medium by which millions are trained to be worthy of their heritage.

THE DERBY, A TRADITION

THE KENTUCKY DERBY has long since ceased to be merely a horse race. In the 60 years since Aristides won the first Derby, it has accumulated a tradition which makes it a fixture in the national life, an event to stir the imagination even of those who have no interest in racing otherwise.

There has been in recent years in America a revaluing of our traditions, a new feeling for those things in our lives which are linked to the romantic past. This feeling marks itself in a reaching back for relics of an older day and in the popularity of literature dealing with earlier American figures and times. Even in spirit the store we put on tradition was never as pronounced as now, so that wherever a natural rivalry asserts itself it is quickly dubbed a classic and encouraged to continue and take root.

The Kentucky Derby is perhaps the greatest of our sport fixtures, for its tradition aside being odd is wholly natural. It is run in the state where fine horses and racing are a larger part of the common life than anywhere else in America. Kentucky takes pride in its thoroughbreds and this pride asserts itself in the scene it provides for the Derby and in the atmosphere with which it invests the picture. So the race has become a tradition which the rest of the country cherishes not much less than the state where it is run.

REVERSAL OF FORM

IRENE CASTLE McLAUGHLIN, the dancer, would like to correct the "ridiculous mistake" for which she holds herself responsible. The mistake was her former advocacy of the boyish figure for women. She feels now that curves are far more lovely.

It is a matter on which we refuse to get worked up, and on which we know better than to take ideas. If the ladies desire to go boyish, it is all right with us, so long as they do not diet to a point where their tempers are affected. If they are naturally supplied with curves, to which they wish to conform their costumes, that is equally satisfactory.

They will do as they please, anyway, subject to the dictates of the prevailing modes.

Happy is the man who has trained himself not to give a darn about things he can't help.

"I can't do a thing with Junior" usually means: "The little rascal has discovered that I am a spineless bluffer."

Little Rhode Island, asking $25,000,000 of public works money, must be planning activity in neighboring states.

Strange people! We are impressed by a fellow's recommendations, yet we give a recommendation to any dub who asks for it.

Gradually we are getting Hitler pinned down to a definite position. At present we are certain that he stands either for peace or for war.

From the headlines of the past few days it appears that all nations want to make peace pacts, but none wants to keep them.

An uninterrupted supply of interesting news is assured for some years to come. Even after the Dionne quintuplets have all of their teeth they will still have the measles, Chickenpox and mumps to go through.

GYPSY GIRL

THE STORY OF AN IMPASSIONED ROMANCE
By McDONALD FEADER

CHAPTER 43

CONSUELO opened an envelope on the box of flowers brought to her dressing room and shrugged her shoulders.

"It's that Chatham Willowby again."

"What does he want?" Stewart asked.

"The same thing. To see me. He has something to say that will interest the Gypsy Consuelo." She dropped the card to the table. "Men are so conceited. They all think they can interest the Gypsy Consuelo. Why? Maybe I'm wrong. Tell him I will see him in my dressing room for five minutes after the show."

The boy nodded and left.

"I thought we'd settled this long ago. You promised me," Stewart said.

"Oh, yes? I have made many promises. I have kept many promises. I am getting tired of keeping them all. I shall do this one little thing I say."

"You have your way all the time." He was sulking.

"Now you are lying! I never have my own way. I have done what you wanted until I have forgotten who I am inside. I haven't had time to think. I am not going to that party tonight. I'm tired—so tired I could cry."

"You're the guest of honor and you've come to go till now. It's too late now to withdraw."

"Too late, eh? We shall see. I shall go home—alone!" she added.

"Is that a hint for me?"

"Yes."

"Are you sure you haven't met this Willowby and want to get rid of me tonight for him?"

She looked at him quizzically and then laughed.

"Oh, my darling, you're still jealous of me, aren't you? Stewart, I'm believing that you really love me."

"I'm wild about you, Consuelo, don't see this man tonight."

She touched her cheeks with more color and made the rouged line of her lips more perfect.

"Very well, I will not see him. Now are you satisfied?"

"That's my good pet. You'll get dressed right after the show and we'll go to that party."

He took her pretty hands in his. "You can't back out on such short notice. Don't you see, I want people to forget that you're an irresponsible gypsy."

"I want to teach you to the other side of life that you've never known. You've got such a lot to overcome and I hate temperamental and temperamental people who are always changing their minds and never know what they want. It's so—"

"Common!" She sighed. "All right, I will go with you tonight, but do not make any more engagements for me for a while or I shall be one of those temperamental people and break them like that!"

She snapped her fingers. "I shall do this. I shall do that. I do not want to go. I go. You have trained me well, haven't you?"

"Now you're so serious I don't know you. You asked me once to teach you how to be a gorgie, that's all."

"And now I am fitting into the pattern. You'll hate me pretty soon."

"Nonsense. I love you more than I ever did."

"And how much have you ever loved me?"

"After Consuelo, time. Call boy."

"You know how much I love you."

"I know. I'm ungrateful. I don't appreciate all this. Forgive me."

She left the dressing room and closed the door behind her. She leaned against the door, eyes closed. "I am too tired to fight with him or else I am turning completely into a gorgie!"

The music from the chorus came up to her, the rhythm of dancing feet, the melody of song. She straightened up, refreshed. Her temples began to throb. She was going to sing and dance. She forgot the man in the dressing room who had changed her so. Again she was the Gypsy Consuelo, alive, vibrant, ready to go on.

The shortest time of the day was this ringing up of the curtain to the final ringing down. Why, it was no time at all. How on wings and all too soon hands were clapping for the last bow and people were rising.

Sometimes she hated them for that—those people out front who left while the curtain calls were being made. Pigs they were, who didn't have the courtesy to stay until it was over. She told herself she must not mind them. It was only this case of hurry that made them leave, but nevertheless she would have liked to shout out at them to make them stay. Of course, she could not do that. She was a lady now.

She was in gay spirits when she went back to the dressing room.

"My darling, you should have watched tonight. It is not a lie that I am a grand dancer."

"That Willowby is waiting down below. Trying to put something over on me?" he demanded.

"Oh, no, I'm not! I told you I wouldn't see him."

"That's what I told Jim to tell him."

She shrugged her shoulders.

The call boy came.

"That gyp wouldn't leave," he handed Consuelo a note. "He said to tell you to read this and if you didn't want to see him then, he'd scatter—he wouldn't annoy you any longer!" the boy mimicked.

"Send him along," Stewart said.

Consuelo opened the note. There was a gasp. "Oh!" She grabbed the boy by the shoulders. "Where is he? Where is he?" She was running out the door and down the steps.

Stewart picked up the note and read: "I am sorry to bother you, but I have a message from your father and from the Dummies. Stewart is a gorgie and he's drummed his fingers against it and wondered."

Consuelo ran down the steps like a mad woman. She hardly waited for the boy to point out Willowby before she flung her arms around him.

"Tell me! Tell me!" she cried.

"He is not ill? Nothing has happened? He is all right?"

It was a moment before the man could assure her that he did not bring bad tidings. She leaned against the wall. Her breath was coming hard. She brushed away the frantic tears that had gathered.

"I'm sorry! I am making a fool of myself! I thought surely that something was the matter. I have not heard of them for so long!" Her voice was tragic. "You are not lying just to spare me? My father is well?"

"Yes, indeed. A fine big man with his black hair and white beard—"

"Beard, white? Oh, no!"

"Very nearly. And the youth, the Dummy, bright-eyed, strong. They are all well. That big dark fellow you were engaged to, he is well, too."

Consuelo was trembling.

"Marcu! You saw him, too!" The words were no more than a whisper.

"Marcu! Tears were running down his cheeks. 'The camp. They will be moving now. It is spring. They have hitched the horses to the vans and folded up the tents and they are singing as they go—' She could not speak further.

Willowby placed his hand on her shoulder.

"I'm sorry. I thought you would be so happy to hear about them."

She choked back the sobs.

"I am crying with that happiness. You are a good one to come to this ungrateful gypsy when so many times I have sent your name back with my regrets, which were not regrets—but, you must understand. I did not know this. I could not guess. Come to my room and talk to me. I will take off this makeup, and I don't doubt but what I have mascara smeared—tears are not good for it, you know."

She was going up the steps as she talked. She opened the door into the dressing room. "You will sit down and talk with me, yes?"

He nodded.

"Had news, my dear?" Stewart asked.

"Oh, no!" She made introductions. She seated Willowby close beside her. "He has been to my people," she explained to Stewart, and forthwith made no effort to include him in the conversation. She listened eagerly to Willowby, her eyes glowing, her heart beating faster than it had for months. She laughed at his description of the camp, thrilled to his telling of the remarkable talent the Dummy possessed and of the contract they had agreed upon.

"In my Fifth Avenue galleries you will see much of his work. I have introduced it there. I have discovered a genius in this boy. I would have brought him to New York with me if I had thought it would not have spoiled him. Sometimes it is so much better to leave things as they are, rather than tamper with the plan."

"Sometimes it is better to leave things as they are rather than tamper with the plan," she repeated after him. "You are a wise one to say that. I wonder if I will ever be old enough to know that. I have tampered so much—"

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. SHEPARD, Famous Bridge Teacher

SEEKING TOP SCORE.

TO DO A PLAYER'S best, both in rubber games and in duplicate contests, he must familiarize himself with the fundamental differences between the two kinds of bridge. The following hand will serve to illustrate several important points.

♠ A Q J 9 7 4
♥ A J 4
♣ K 9 4

♠ 8 6 5 3 2
♥ K 8 6 5
♦ K 7 3
♣ A Q

♠ 10
♥ 10 3
♦ A Q J 9 2
♣ A 10 8 5 2

We saw yesterday, South can make a small slam at clubs, but no more. In rubber bridge a small slam at clubs, with safety, should satisfy the player, but in a duplicate game rubber points are not played. Each hand is a distinct contest. Match points are scored. Suppose there are seven tables in the game, with 7 different scores made by North and South. One match point is awarded a pair for each other pair's score which they exceed. Top score will be 6 points, for 6 pairs beaten. The second score will be 5 match points for 5 pairs defeated, and so on. The pair making bottom score will be given 0. Total match points awarded will be 6 plus 5 plus 4 plus 3 plus 2 plus 1—21 total.

Suppose two pairs tie for top score.

each will be awarded 5½ match points (the sum of 6 and 5, divided by 2). The total match points with 7 tables always must be 21. Suppose that one pair made 6-No Trumps, another 6-Spades and that four pairs tied for 6-Clubs. The first would receive 6 points, the second would receive 5½ points, while the seventh pair would receive 0. The total match points awarded would total 21.

South can make 6-odd at no Trumps, against any opening lead. There are 4 spade tricks, 1 heart trick, 1 diamond trick and 5 club tricks, just playing top cards. He can pick up his twelfth trick by giving opponents a single heart of a single diamond trick, and thereby win 2 tricks in the red suit chosen.

North can make 6-Spades against an opening lead of spades, clubs or diamonds, but an opening heart lead probably will defeat the contract a single trick by giving the defenders a trump and a heart trick. The table below shows what scores a 7-table game might yield.

Table 1, bid and make 6-No Trumps, scoring 6 match points.

Table 2, bid and make 6-Spades, scoring 3 match points.

Table 3, bid and make 6-Clubs, scoring 3 match points.

Table 4, bid and make 6-Clubs, scoring 3 match points.

Table 5, bid and make 6-Clubs, scoring 3 match points.

Table 6, bid and make 5-Clubs, scoring 1 match point.

Table 7, go down on 6-Spades scoring 0 match point.

Totals, 21.

THE GIRL WITH THE SOUL

It isn't the girl with the money. And it isn't the girl with the form. And it isn't the girl with the beautiful face

Who will help you weather the storm.

It's the girl who's the splendid comrade,

Who'll not wait for the turn of the tide;

That's the girl who will stick —

when the weather's thick —

It's the girl with the soul inside.

It isn't the girl who knows how to dance well,

And it isn't the girl who wears nice clothes

Who you will look at twice—

though of course it's nice

If by chance she should have all those.

It's the girl who will stand by you —

when you're absent,

When you're knocked on every side;

It's the girl with the eyes, who will give the surprise;

It's the girl with the soul inside.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

Eddie Cantor had to play a scene in "Kid Millions," his new Samuel Goldwyn musical comedy showing at the Cliftona Theatre tonight and Tuesday, in which a magician changes a man into a dog. Buster, the famous screen mongrel trained by Rennie Renfro, was engaged for the part; together with Buster, Jr., his son and understudy. Two days before they were needed at the studio, father and son had a scrap, in which the son came off second best, with a couple of slight nicks here and there.

Renfro separated them until their appearance on the lot, a few minutes before the cameras were ready for the "take." The two dogs, father and son, were brought on the set from different entrances. Unloosed, they tore at each other in a fit of professional or other jealousy. It was the wildest dog fight in years. Buster, Sr., limped off to the sidelines, and his son-understudy got the part with Eddie Cantor in "Kid Millions."

AT THE GRAND

Loretta Young and her sister, Polly Ann, are appearing together in a picture for the first time, in Jesse L. Lasky's "The White Parade," at the Grand Theatre. Loretta plays the feminine lead, and Polly Ann an important supporting role. Both enact the roles of student-nurses and wear similar costumes, which emphasize their resemblance.

AT THE CIRCLE

A comedy-romance with much of the mystery of San Francisco's Chinatown, famous in countless works of fiction, forms the interesting basis of the Monogram photoplay "The Mysterious Mr. Wong" showing at the Circle Theatre.

How to Plan Reducing Diet That Has Balance, Variety

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IT IS EASY enough to plan a diet which will reduce weight, but it requires some skill to plan a diet which is safe, balanced and has variety.

The substitution foods—sold in packages as reducers and used by substituting a small amount for breakfast or lunch—are very likely to be unbalanced in that they lack vitamins, minerals and protein. Hence they are unsafe if taken over any long period of time.

Such a reference card (very much abbreviated) is as follows, with allowed amount to a serving:

GIANT HURLER NEARLY JOINS HALL OF FAME

Scratch Single Which Might Have Been Error Prevents No-Hit Game.

NEW YORK, April 29. To the list of famous New York Giant pitchers, and there have been many of them throughout the years, added the name: Hal Schumacher.

The young man from Dolgeville, N. Y., missed joining the ranks of diamond immortals by the narrowest of possible margins when he shut out the Phillies, 3 to 0, before 26,000 pop-eyed fans at the Polo Grounds, yesterday.

Officially one lone single was made off Schumacher's puzzling delivery, but there are hundreds of fans willing to argue today that Hal really twirled a no hit game. Most of his teammates feel likewise.

In the third inning, Orville Jorgens, relief pitcher and brother of Arndt Jorgens, catcher of the New York Yankees, smacked the ball through the box to the edge of the grass back of second base. Short-stop Dick Bartell made a dazzling stop, but was off balance when he made the throw to first, with the result that the ball went bounding past Terry and Jorgens reached second standing up. The play was scored as a hit and an error and Schumacher's hope of joining the hall of famers went glimmering.

It was unfortunate that Jorgens got his bingle so early in the game. Had the blow been struck late in the day, it is entirely likely the official scorer would have stretched a point and given Bartell an error on the stop as well as on the throw to first.

Schumacher's was the third one hit game pitched in the National league this year. Johnny Babich of the Dodgers and Cy Blanton of the Pirates hurled the other two.

JESSE OWENS EQUALS DASH MARK

Jesse Owens, Ohio State University's flying kangaroo, took rank alongside other great negro sprinters of other years—Eddie Tolson, Ralph Metcalfe and Howard Drew—when he won the special 100-yard dash at the twenty-sixth annual Drake University relays at Des Moines, Iowa, in .09.5 seconds, equalling the Drake record set by Roland Locke of Nebraska in 1926 and tied by Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette in 1932. Picture shows Owens finishing fully two yards ahead of Milton Holt of Fresno State College, Fresno, Cal.

Didrikson Takes Texas Woman's Golf Honors

HOUSTON, Tex., April 29.—They laughed at Mildred "Babe" Didrikson three years ago when she said someday she would be the National woman golf champion. And it's dynamite to laugh at the Babe.

She started practicing in 1932, spending long hours perfecting her iron play, days on the putting green.

And today the Texas miss wore the smile that is the nucleus of the "last laugh." She held the Texas women's crown and cast a covetous eye on the national championship.

The heroine of the last Olympic games who has since lead a checkered sports career that included pitching for the House of David, nine, billiard exhibitions, and vaudeville engagements, beat Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, 2 up, in the 36-hole final of the Texas Women's tournament at the River Oaks Country club here yesterday.

And then she revealed how, after she had broken three world's records in the javelin, high jump and hurdles in the Olympics, she told friends golf was her favorite sport and she intended to be national champion. "And they laughed," Babe said.

"But I worked hard, and I think I have accomplished much with my golf game since I started playing in 1932."

She is going to enter the women's national this year.

TEAM BOSSES OF 'REC' LOOP MEET TONIGHT

Plans For Opening of League Next Week To Be Drawn As Managers Meet.

Rules and regulations under which the Recreation ball league will be governed will be adopted tonight when managers of the six teams in the loop meet in The Herald office. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock and it is urged that only league officials, backers, managers and team captains attend the meeting since the editorial office will not accommodate a large crowd of ball players.

The teams entered in the loop are Circleville, Oils, last year's champions, Kalsion-Pirina, Fickaway Dairy, Cities Service, Eshelman Foods and Jones Specials.

The league opens next Monday, May 6.

As they did last year, the team managers will draw numbers from a hat to determine where they will be placed in the schedule. Teams drawing Nos. 1 and 2 will open the league season, Nos. 3 and 4 will play the second night and Nos. 5 and 6 the third night. With a six team league two of the teams will play twice each week.

All managers are to have their player lists ready to turn in this evening. Each, according to rules set down at an earlier meeting, will be allowed 12 players. Any disputes over players will have to be ironed out, too.

RACE QUALIFIER SET FOR MAY 18

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 29.—The opening gun for the annual 500-mile race over the Indianapolis Speedway, May 30, will be fired here on May 18, according to Speedway officials who have set that date for the beginning of the qualifying tests. These will determine the 33 cars which will start the race on Decoration Day.

The prospect of a record number of entries in the big race has prompted officials to open the grueling tests a dozen days in advance of the big show itself and perhaps 10 of the 12 days will be required to dispose of the important task of allotting the 33 places among more than twice as

KENTUCKIANS BACK NELLIE FLAG IN RACE

Between 16 To 20 Horses To Bid; Chance Sun's Entry Doubtful.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29.—Whether or not Chance Sun will go to the post in the 61st Kentucky derby next Saturday, may depend on the colt's performance in the derby trial purse here tomorrow.

Peter Coyne, the winter book favorite, trainer, would make no comment today as to whether or not Chance Sun would be a starter, but his attitude was dubious. And the railbirds freely predicted the Widener horse would be scratched as a result of his sorry showing in the Cherokee purse Saturday when he finished a poor third back of Nellie Flag and Bluebeard.

Twenty May Run Col. Matt Winn, the derby impresario, said today he wouldn't be surprised if as many as twenty thoroughbreds make a bid for the $50,000 added, surely 16 will go to the post.

With Chance Sun's condition a matter of conjecture, there is some little argument as to what colt shall carry the short odds Kentucky flag as a result of her victory in the Cherokee purse.

C. V. Whitney's today is heavily backed, being held at 7 to 2 with Nellie Flag.

Roman Soldier, Whisker Finance, Chance View, and Gallathea are being closely watched in their workouts by the early derby arrivals. Sun Fairplay and St. Bernard are also drawing the attention of the railbirds.

DIAQUIRI INJURED, RACING IS ENDED

Diaquiri, Beulah park favorite, who has carried the money of local sports followers a number of times returning good dividends as a rule, has been injured. She suffered a broken leg while working at the Grove City oval. She will not be destroyed, however, being saved for breeding purposes.

Diaquiri won the Inaugural handicap last spring and the Governor's handicap in 1933.

GIANT HURLER NEARLY JOINS HALL OF FAME

Scratch Single Which Might Have Been Error Prevents
No-Hit Game.

NEW YORK, April 29—To the list of famous New York Giant pitchers . . . and there have been many of them throughout the years . . . add the name: Hal Schumacher.

The young man from Dolgeville, N. Y., missed joining the ranks of diamond immortals by the narrowest of possible margins when he shut out the Phillies, 3 to 0, before 26,000 pop-eyed fans at the Polo Grounds, yesterday.

Officially one lone single was made off Schumacher's puzzling delivery, but there are hundreds of fans willing to argue today that Hal really twirled a no hit game. Most of his teammates feel likewise.

In the third inning, Orville Jorgens, relief pitcher and brother of Arndt Jorgens, catcher of the New York Yankees, smacked the ball through the box to the edge of the grass back of second base. Shortstop Dick Bartell made a dazzling stop, but was off balance when he made the throw to first, with the result that the ball went bounding past Terry and Jorgens reached second standing up. The play was scored as a hit and an error and Schumacher's hope of joining the hall of famers went glimmering.

It was unfortunate that Jorgens got his bingle so early in the game. Had the blow been struck late in the day, it is entirely likely the official scorer would have stretched a point and given Bartell an error on the stop as well as on the throw to first.

Schumacher's was the third one hit game pitched in the National league this year. Johnny Babich of the Dodgers and Cy Blanton of the Pirates hurled the other two.

MEIER WINS LOOP OPENER

Meier Hands Grove City Row of Blanks; Derby Entrant Is Whipped.

The two Pickaway-10 teams in the Central Ohio league faced in opposite directions Sunday in opening games of the league. The Ashville entrant played great ball to blank the Grove City outfit, 4 to 0, while Derby, latest addition to the league, was being dropped 14 to 4.

Art Meier, tall righthander on the mound for Ashville, scattered seven hits. Every time Grove City threatened to enter the scoring Meier and his mates put in the brakes.

Ashville touched Ferguson of Grove City for only eight bingles but bunched them in the sixth, seventh and eighth frames. Harris and Manager Stoker each hit safely twice for the upcountry villagers. Meier fanned eight.

The Derby team led 4 to 3 when the seventh inning opened in its game with Gahanna but the Derby-10 boys had to call the fire department to get Gahanna out in the seventh and eighth. Five runs scored in the seventh and six in the eighth. Playing at home Gahanna did not need to bat in the ninth.

Brice beat Obeta 7 to 3 in the other league game.

Good crowds witnessed all games played in the league.

Wesleyan Is Second
Ohio Wesleyan's 480-yard shut-out relay team finished in second place in the Penn. relays Saturday, Pennsylvania winning by a narrow edge. Yale was third and Cornell fourth. Howland White is the No. 1 man on the Wesleyan team; he gave his team a lead which the No. 2 and No. 3 men could not hold. Ulrich, anchor-man, nearly wiped out the Penn. lead.

May Score May 3
Washington-10's relay team which hopefully went to Delaware Saturday to take part in the Ohio Wesleyan relays came home with a lot of experience but no points. It was a good outing for the boys who are believed to have a good chance to top the relay events in the county meet next Friday at New Holland.

Ex Layman in U.S.
New Holland's team scored only 21 points, fewer than a New Holland team has counted in the relays in a long while. The points were tallied in the high jump when the New Holland team scored all its points in Wesleyan's system of scoring. Everett Landman (1) for individual first place with a leap of 5 feet 10 inches with Good of Delta. The meet was won by Sandusky in class A and Salom high of Oak Harbor in Class B.

THREE CARRY TIGER HOPES

Coleman, Griffith, Jenkins
May Provide Margin Over Chillicothe.

The track and field hopefuls of Circleville high school travel to Chillicothe Tuesday afternoon to do battle with the fast team representing that city.

The Tigers' chief hopes lie in the speed events with Chillicothe conceded an edge in the field contests. Chillicothe was able to score only two points in the Ohio Wesleyan relays at Delaware taking fifth place in the mile relay. Circleville was not represented in the meet.

It is believed Normie Coleman, if he is in form, can compete with the fastest Chillicothe can offer in the 100 and 220-yard events while John Griffith in the hurdles and John Jenkins in the middle distances are both expected to knock off some points.

In the 5-school meet last Monday Coleman won the 100 and 220, Griffith won both the hurdles and Jenkins both the quarter and half mile events. Of course the opposition in that meet was not what it will be at Chillicothe but it is hoped that the Tigers make a good showing. By doing well against Chillicothe they may gain needed confidence for their entry in the Central Buckeye league events.

ASHVILLE WINS 'LOOP' OPENER

Meier Hands Grove City Row of Blanks; Derby Entrant Is Whipped.

The two Pickaway-co teams in the Central Ohio league fared in opposite directions Sunday in opening games of the league. The Ashville entrant played great ball to blank the Grove City outfit, 4 to 0, while Derby, latest addition to the league, was being dropped 14 to 4.

Art Meier, tall righthander on the mound for Ashville, scattered seven hits. Every time Grove City threatened to enter the scoring Meier and his mates put on the brakes.

Ashville touched Ferguson of Grove City for only eight bingles but bunched them in the sixth, seventh and eighth frames. Harris and Manager Stoker each hit safely twice for the upcounty villagers. Meier fanned eight.

The Derby team led 4 to 3 when the seventh inning opened in its game with Gahanna but the Derby-twp boys had to call the fire department to get Gahanna out in the seventh and eighth. Five runs scored in the seventh and six in the eighth. Playing at home Gahanna did not need to bat in the ninth.

Brite beat Obetz 7 to 3 in the other league game.

Good crowds witnessed all games played in the league.

FILLS THE BILL

-By Jack Sords

ketball squad, is the team's speed ace and paces and plays third base on the baseball team. The dusky athlete is not in his senior year but his age is at the maximum allowed in Ohio high school circles.

Wesleyan Is Second

Ohio Wesleyan's 480-yard shuttle-hurdle relay team finished in second place in the Penn. relays Saturday, Pennsylvania winning by a narrow edge. Yale was third and Cornell fourth. Howard White is the No. 1 man on the Wesleyan team; he gave his team a lead which the No. 2 and No. 3 men could not hold. Ulrich, anchor-man, nearly wiped out the Penn lead.

Lancaster's providing a job for popular Frank McDevitt, coach of St. Mary's high school athletics. He and C. A. McTeal will operate Miller's park swimming pool.

May Score May 3

Washington-twp's relay team which hopefully went to Delaware Saturday to take part in the Ohio Wesleyan relays came home with a lot of experience but no points. It was a good outing for the boys who are believed to have a good chance to cop the relay events in the county meet next Friday at New Holland.

Ev Landman in Tie

New Holland's team scored only 3½ points, fewer than a New Holland team has counted in the relays in a long while. The points were tallied in the high jump when the New Holland team scored all its points in Wesleyan's system of scoring. Everett Landman tied for individual first place with a leap of 5 feet 10 inches with Good of Delta. The meet was won by Sandusky in class A and Salem high of Oak Harbor in Class B.

THREE CARRY TIGER HOPES

Coleman, Griffith, Jenkins May Provide Margin Over Chillicothe.

The track and field hopefuls of Circleville high school travel to Chillicothe Tuesday afternoon to do battle with the fast team representing that city.

The Tigers' chief hopes lie in the speed events with Chillicothe conceding an edge in the field contests. Chillicothe was able to score only two points in the Ohio Wesleyan relays at Delaware taking fifth place in the mile relay. Circleville was not represented in the meet.

It is believed Normie Coleman, if he is in form, can compete with the fastest Chillicothe can offer in the 100 and 220-yard events while John Griffith in the hurdles and John Jenkins in the middle distances are both expected to knock off some points.

In the 5-school meet last Monday Coleman won the 100 and 220, Griffith won both the hurdles and Jenkins both the quarter and half mile events. Of course the opposition in that meet was not what it will be at Chillicothe but it is hoped that the Tigers make a good showing. By doing well against Chillicothe they may gain needed confidence for their entry in the Central Buckeye league events.

Car Color Restricted

In Japan only imperial household cars may be painted maroon, and no cars except hearses may be painted yellow, which to the natives signifies mourning.

CABLE PLANS TO END FILM JOB IN 1940

To Devote Time To Travel After Another Five Years, He Declares.

HOLLYWOOD, April 25.—In the first week of May, 1940, Clark Gable will turn in his dressing-room key and quit motion pictures for good.

The star re-affirmed it today on the "China Seas" set as he reached the halfway mark in the ten years he originally allotted for his film career.

After that he will devote his time to travel and to play.

"I hope my next five years in pictures are as pleasant as the last," declared the idol of thousands of movie fans, "but even if I'm still in demand, I'll quit at my appointed time."

Gable made three assaults on the Hollywood gates before they finally opened to him. Since then he has worked harder for his success, and with fewer vacations than almost any other major luminary in the cinema heavens.

Hollywood didn't believe the young actor, five years ago when he set an arbitrary limit on his career. Perhaps it won't believe Gable now. But Clark should be financially independent by 1940, and the faraway spots to him, have always been the most alluring.

He'll likely surprise them and do just what he says.

ASHVILLE

Albert Kauber left Friday for New York City, where he will meet his sister, Miss Alma Kauber and will return home with her brother.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Hoffman have returned home after spending a few days with Mrs. Hoffman's mother at Adrian, Michigan.

Miss Reba Cupp of Mansfield spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore.

Miss Lorna Weber and Miss Phyllis Rohr of Groveport spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Reubin Weber and daughter Peggy.

DENVER.—Police are looking for a thief who may attempt to fit 40 one-legged children with shoes. William C. Myers, Webb City, Mo., traveling salesman, reported that sample children's shoes, for the right foot only, were among loot taken from his parked automobile.

Long Ally Convicted

Representative Joe Fisher, State Representative Joe Fisher of Louisiana, ally of Senator Huey Long, found guilty of evading federal tax on a "hidden income," was sentenced to 18 months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta by Judge Wayne C. Borah in New Orleans federal court. It was a victory for the government in the first of eight cases against Long's political supporters.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 3 went on a Johnny Apple seed hike Friday to the home of Mrs. Lawrence Goeller, where we had out business meeting.

Marilyn Lutz was elected May Queen and will be crowned queen next Friday. We played several games and then ate our snack and saved our apples until the last. We saved the seeds and planted them. We expect an apple orchard opposite Mrs. Goeller's home in the near future.

Betty Norris is a new member of our troop.
Patrol No. 1 had a very nice time Tuesday evening clearing the auxiliary cupboards. They ate their supper after they were through.

Circleville Girl Scout troop No. 4 held its regular meeting Friday, April 26, in the basement of the Presbyterian church. We opened with our business session and then went out into the yard. Each patrol was assigned one duty, making up a complete program. One had inspection, one progress work, one songs, and one had games. Later a letter was read to us from a girl in Ireland. We closed with "Taps."

CONVENTION ENDS

The Second district Sunday school convention, held at the Second Baptist church (colored), closed Sunday evening after a successful day. The afternoon session was the largest ever held in the district.

Fred C. Clark was the principal speaker.

The meeting closed with the newly-elected president, Mrs. Fred Scott, presiding.
Rev. B. R. Reed is pastor of the local church.

Bricker's ruling stated that since the federal government is solely in control of the administration of relief, there is no authority for non-charter counties to spend county funds for payment of rent, light, heat, water and other office expenses of the federal relief administration.

HOUSE STUDIES PLANS FOR TAXES

COLUMBUS, April 25.—With sine die adjournment rapidly approaching, the 91st Ohio General Assembly today found itself in a quandary over raising $6,000,000 to pay old age pensions during the last six months of this year.

Having rejected Governor Davey's suggestions that the liquid fuel tax be increased one cent per gallon for the remainder of the year, the house of representatives has toyed with the idea of imposing a "service tax" which is sort of a sales tax on services rendered by the professions.

MAN WHO ASSISTED SANTA CLAUS DEAD

SANTA CLAUS, Ind., April 25.—Santa Claus is dead.

James F. Martin on the post-office records, he was Santa Claus to thousands of children throughout the world.

Martin made Santa Claus real at Christmas time, by postmarking Christmas packages with the name of this tiny southern Indiana village.

Most of the 100 inhabitants of this little community pitched in and helped Martin handle the tons of mail he received each year to re-mail to children throughout the world.

'LAST DITCH' FIGHT HITTING PAROCHIAL MEASURE IS BEGUN

COLUMBUS, April 25.—Ohio protestant church leaders today launched an intensive campaign to line up pastors and their congregations for a "last ditch" battle against proposed parochial school state aid.

Resembling in many respects the concerted campaign of religious leaders for prohibition, the drive against the Davis bill to give church schools state aid today became a sweeping round-up of opposition forces.

Rev. B. F. Lamb, secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, left Columbus today for a state-wide tour to contact ministers in all sections of Ohio and strengthen the lines of anti-parochial aid forces.

Pastors took up the cudgel against the proposal in their pulpits, exhorting congregations to flood their representatives in the general assembly with protests against the proposal.

TEACHERS MEET AT NEW CONCORD

NEW CONCORD, April 25.—Muskingum college is sponsoring an educational conference to be held Friday, May 3, afternoon and evening, to which school superintendents, principals, teachers, board members, and the general public are invited. The conference will discuss problems involved in the teaching of the social studies in the schools.

Professor Harold Rugg, of Teachers College, Columbia University and Professor Rudolph Lindquist, of the Ohio State University, both nationally known educators, will be the chief speakers.

Professor Rugg has written a series of books which are widely used in the teaching of the social studies. His writings in this field are numerous and outstanding.

Eighth Grade News

The eighth grade went to Washington Township to participate in the state test. Three pupils were in the upper ten per cent of the scores of the county. This placed Pickaway first with one other school. The three high pupils were: Doris Leist, Mary Jane Kreisel, and Jimmy Boggs.

The following pupils had 100 per cent each day for the last six weeks in the Spelling Contest: Fannie Mae Dudleson, Marvin Newhouse, Clifford Howe, Rex Newhouse, Clifford Davis, Mary Jane Kreisel, Elma Howe, Rex Wadlington, and Doris Leist.

Those pupils receiving first honors for the last six weeks were: Doris Leist, 3.85; Mary Jane Kreisel 3.85; Fannie Mae Dudleson, 3.77. Those receiving second honors were:

Ruth Montelius, 3.62; Marvin Newhouse 3.54.

Our grade has started work on a Ciceretta, Yanki Sar, to be given the last day of school as a promotion exercise.

SELF-PUNISHMENT

BUDAPEST — Whipping of schoolchildren is forbidden by Hungarian laws. So an ingenious Budapest female school teacher introduced the system of self-punishment in her classes. Little boys of 6 and 8 were sentenced to give themselves five boxes on the ear for smaller offenses and 10 for greater ones. The self-punishment was executed publicly. The father of one of the children was informed of this strange system and the teacher is now being prosecuted by school authorities.

What a New Coat of Paint Means to That Barn of Yours

It means a better looking building... it means a look of well-doing and prosperity. It means protection against the weather—heat, rain, snow, sleet. It gives far longer life to wood.

And, although you might not be aware of the facts, experts say that paint is a safety measure in case of fire. When wood is unpainted or neglected for lack of paint, it dries out—seasons... becomes like tinder.

In every essential and wise way, it is a job which should be done. Consult us for estimates. Costs are cheaper now than they WILL be.
